PRINCIPAL CORNER

I can't believe it is already November, this year is flying by. This month we are focusing on servanthood. Our verse for the month is from 1 Samuel 12:24. This got me thinking about what the Heartland family does to serve others in our community. Just last night I was able to take 12 kids, 3 – 8th grade, to the Evangelical Covenant Church to help set up the room we adopted for the shine carnival. They set up all of the games and decorated. Tonight they are going to be working the games in the youth room. Then this morning, there were 3 students and 3 adults who, without being asked, dug in and cleaned the school because we have been short a janitor for a couple of weeks. Later this month we have the week of caring. We will be serving backpack buddies, the food shelf, boys and girls club and stuff a truck. We will also be making cards for children who are homeless. The kids involved in these activities don't even act like it is something special, it is just who they are. I don't always know how to describe what I see from our students but a parent the other morning made it easy to understand. He said, "The kids are all smiling, not because they are goofing around, but because they are actually full of joy." The kids here are glad to help, happy to serve and genuinely joyful! God has blessed me beyond belief to let me be a part of this incredible family.

Thank You All, Mr. Ness
